
ALLIANCE FOR GLOBAL GOOD

The Alliance for Global Good was born from a belief that the world is in crisis and if there is going to be a positive future, for us, our children, and their children, we all need to give more, do more, and come together as never before. Like many global crises, cancer knows no borders and does not discriminate. It affects families, friends, and neighbors across the globe, compelling us all to remember:

Our world is in crisis.

There is no You or Them.

There is no Here or There.

There is only us. It's what we do now that matters.

Choose: what matters to you

Give: what and how you can

Deliver: solutions, change and a better future.

The Alliance for Global Good believes that now is the time to unite people from around the world to fight for what matters and to make a real difference. Combating cancer truly deserves our attention. To learn more about the Alliance for Global Good or to begin making a difference in your world, please visit us at www.afgg.org
